IX. Membership of Professional Bodies

>IWSA (Indian Women Scientists' Association).

It is a voluntary, non-profit, social welfare organization. I am an active member of its Roorkee Chapter. The Roorkee Chapter has been instrumental in initiating several women-centric projects within the IIT Campus, Roorkee city and nearby villages, which include establishment of child care center and sahayata kendras for women. It regularly organizes workshops and conferences on issues related with women. It also organizes village camps for medical and financial counselling. It has started a regular Mathematics Quiz for the junior school children during the last four years, which has become a major academic event for Roorkee and is gradually extending to nearby cities also.
